IT is interesting to note the fact that Williams College has decided to open its library on Sundays. The hours will be from two until five in the afternoon. Why some similar plan would not be desirable and feasible here, it is hard to understand.

ALMOST the only just idea of the causes of our recent trouble and practical method of avoiding its recurrence, is contained in the editorial quoted elsewhere from the Detroit Evening Journal. It not only shows that it has the right idea but makes a practical demonstration of it by undertaking to raise a fund for the equipment of a gymnasium. If this sum is raised it will greatly aid, now that we have the athletic field to put it on, the procuring of a gymnasium building. Now is the opportunity for our alumni and all others who wish well to the University, and have deplored the recent events which have so tarnished the reputation of their Alma Mater, to take practical steps for preventing their repetition.

WE are pleased to publish this week under the title, "U. of M. Verse," several contributions that are most graceful bits of writing. There is no reason why we should not be able to have contributions of this nature for every issue. If there are any who are in want of models in this style of verse, a study of Austin Dobson's writings would be very helpful.

WHILE not wishing to cast the blame upon the student body for recent occurrences, still the exhibition of mobish and unruly tendencies on the part of the students is to be severely condemned. If we were in a narrow, conservative institution, and closely hemmed in on all sides by rules and regulations, the case would be different. But as students of the great University of Michigan, the broadest and most liberal institution in the land, there is absolutely no excuse whatever, for such disturbances. Every student is given the greatest possible latitude and freedom and, in return, should consider himself bound in honor, to act like a gentleman.

NEWBERRY HALL still remains only partially completed. A beautiful exterior, but dark, gloomy, and unfinished on the inside. Nearly three years ago the corner stone was laid, and it was then confidently expected that the building would have been in use long ere this. Ready help in the way of funds was expected, and rightly expected from the students and alumni. But the required amount has not yet been raised. Much canvassing has been done, and last spring an unusual effort was put forth to have the necessary amount pledged before the end of the year. However, the building still stands unfinished as a gentle reminder of the lack of benevolence and interest on the part of the majority of students and alumni. Here is an excellent opportunity for some wealthy alumnus or resident of Michigan to confer a lasting blessing on the University and S. C. A., by making a gift of three or four thousand dollars for the completion of Newberry Hall. But if we wait for such a good fortune as that to happen, experience goes to show that we shall wait in vain. The S. C. A. fund will have to be increased by slow, small pledges and various incomes, which necessitate hard persistent work on the part of the students. It is hoped that the necessary means will be forthcoming ere long, so that the S. C. A. may have the accommodations so essential to its present work.

CAN it be said that the University spirit of olden times is dead? The special train of twelve crowded coaches, that carried nearly a thousand of our students to the Cornell game last Saturday, is ample proof that the University spirit is as much aglow as ever it was way back in the seventies. Every man showed his loyalty to the Yellow and Blue by displaying the colors in some form or other. It is needless to say that from the moment the train arrived at Detroit till it pulled out at midnight, all Detroit was aware of the presence of Michigan University students. The enthusiasm and spirit thus displayed with true gentlemanliness is to be commended. The loyalty and love of the student for his University should be early engendered and so strongly formed that it may remain with him, an alumnus, as a life-long devotion to his Alma Mater.

PRESIDENT ANGELL'S remarks given in chapel a few days ago, cannot be too strictly heeded. Recent occurrences have been misunderstood or perverted by the press throughout the whole country, some go so far as to say that there must be something radically wrong with an educational system, under which such things are possible. Unjustly, and without good reason, the University authorities are being held in a great measure, as the responsible parties. Those who thoroughly understand the situation, however, know that the college officers are in no way to blame. Still the fact remains that the fair name of the University has been sullied in the eyes of the country. Therefore, it should be the duty of every student who honors and loves his college, to see to it, that in the future no disorderly actions of any kind take place. In no other way will it be possible for the University to recover from the great shock it has received.

THE foot-ball season in the east is drawing to its climax. Next Thursday afternoon, in Brooklyn, will occur the great championship game between Yale and Princeton. Yale, bearing the burden of last year's defeat, is going to make a great struggle for victory and the chances are largely in her favor. If the recent scores made by these elevens with the U. of P. are anything to judge by, Yale will win easily for her score with U. of P. last Saturday was 60-0, while the week before Princeton won from the U. of P. by the small score of 6-0.

THERE is a painful scarcity of singing books in the chapel. We are probably safe in saying that no new books have been bought in the past four years, in spite of the fact that the attendance at the University has increased some seven or eight hundred. The great majority of those who attend chapel exercises enjoy and like to participate in the singing, but with so few books many are deprived of the pleasure. An addition of fifty or a hundred books would not seriously drain the University treasury and would materially aid in increasing the attendance and enhancing the enjoyment of chapel exercises.

WE have every reason to be gratified with the result of the Cornell game. We did not win the game it is true, but we won the respect and admiration of the Cornell people to a large degree. The result of the game was a decided surprise to them as they had been counting on a score of about 40-0. Last Saturday's score of 20-5 is infinitely better than the last year's score of 56-0 and shows that a great deal can be accomplished by hard work. But this is not the time to stop. As we suggested last week, the men should keep in partial training at least, all winter, new men should be given a chance to learn the game, and every effort should be made so that next year we can put up an eleven that will defeat Cornell.

Freshmen are reminded that the Steward's office is the place to make inquiry regarding lost clothing and books. At the present time there are two overcoats and an umbrella in that office awaiting an owner.

U. OF M. VERSE.

SUNLIGHT.

Purest sunlight heaven yields,
 Flooding hillside, crag and fields,
 Sweetest gift from God's own hand,
 Soft caressing sea and land!
 Cheerer of the drooping heart,
 Thou canst joy and peace impart.

* * * *

Still a purer light there gleams—
 From my lady's eyes it streams.

LIFE.

With a whirl and a rush,
 A silence and hush,
 Whence? Whither? Who knows?
 The world comes and goes
 With a whirl and a rush,
 A silence and hush.

YOUNG LOVE.

Young Love's but a tramp,
 With never a dwelling,
 A vagrant young scamp,
 Ever changing his camp,
 Though hearts may be swelling,
 Young Love's but a tramp,
 With never a dwelling.

—A. J. Landow.

THE MAID AND THE SHY YOUTH.

The light was turned low as they sat together;
 He, bashfully expectant; she wondering whether Breaking the silence would fall to her lot.
 "O Tom! what a lovely moustache you've got,"
 She murmured,—then paused;—but fresh courage soon took
 Her dear heart, and she added, with far away-look
 In her eyes, "I-wonder-how-a-moustache
 Would-feel-on-my-lip;"—and then like a flash
 The chains that bound his reserve were sundered,
 And—well—the maiden no longer wondered.

CHORAL UNION.

The sale of tickets for the Choral Union Series has been very gratifying but if the students desire that the Symphony Orchestra shall appear twice it will be necessary to make a determined effort to sell more tickets. The first series of five concerts is assured, but the additional ones are of so expensive a nature that more tickets must be sold. The complete series represents an expenditure of $4000.00 and all the attractions are the best to be obtained in the country. The refusal of the extra date for the Symphony Orchestra will soon be withdrawn and it will be seen that whatever is done must be done immediately. The Orchestra, has received perfect ovations at each appearance this year and stands to-day without a peer. The Choral Union is doing a magnificent work and the concert given by the chorus and orchestra in February will be a revelation. It is to be hoped that the Union may be able to give "The Redemption," for such a performance would be a noteworthy triumph for our University. We give below an extract from the Boston Globe, simply adding that the New York, Philadelphia and Washington papers are full of the most enthusiastic praise of the Orchestra's work. Secure your tickets at Calkin's, or of Professors Stanley, de Pont and Wines.

"The Boston Symphony Orchestra returned on Friday from its first trip of the season outside of New England. The success achieved by the organization was wonderful. The strongest proof of this is in the figures. In each city, New Haven, New York, Washington and Philadelphia, the sale was in advance of last year, notably in Philadelphia, where the season sale was nearly $3000 in advance of last year, and the receipts for the first concert $600 in advance of the concert last season. Every seat in the house was sold. Over 500 purchasers of 'rush tickets' stood outside the entrance to the top gallery nearly an hour, a pleasant reminder of the usual scene at Music Hall on Friday afternoon.

In New York, at Chickering Hall, the sign "standing room only" was displayed before the doors opened, and the brilliant audience, the enthusiastic applause, with flattering press comments, afforded ample evidence of the unqualified success of the concert. In Washington, a city never professedly musical, the season sale was over $2000 in advance of last year, and Lincoln Hall was packed to the doors. Both Mr. Nikisch and Mr. Theodore Reichman, the soloist, were the recipients of floral offerings. Throughout the trip the orchestral selections arousing the most enthusiasm were the two movements from the Tschalkowsky symphony, the Eroica symphony of Beethoven, the Oberon overture and the Perpetuo Moto of Paganini for violins.

The programme for the return of the orchestra, next Saturday, includes Beethoven's first symphony, the Turkish march from "The Ruins of Athens," by the same composer, and Smetana's symphonic poem, "Vitava." Mr. Anton Hekking, the celloist, is to perform, for its first hearing in this city, a concerto by Haydn."

WORDS OF WARNING.

President Angell made some remarks Thursday morning in chapel concerning the use of University rooms by the different classes, organizations, etc. It was found necessary, he said, to refuse the rooms for meetings during the week days or evenings, there being sufficient Saturdays in the year upon which these meetings could be held. Further, it was expected that these assemblies would not be so noisy as to disturb other meetings in the building, and, especially that they would not be disturbed by outside parties; in case they were molested, the parties causing the disturbance would be considered as committing disorderly acts, and would be dealt with accordingly. The President particularly emphasized the fact that while the eyes of the whole country were upon us we should be very careful to do nothing to bring censure upon us.

THE TROUBLE AND ITS CURE.

Nearly all the college rows and disturbances are due to the escape of the youthful energies and activity of the students, whose exuberance of spirits and lively vitality must have some sort of vent. It is as hopeless to look for a tranquil, sedate and restrained behavior among these young men, at all times and seasons, as it is to expect a herd of colts to act like dray horses or horse car hacks. This overflow of spirits, as natural as the bubbling of fountains or the rush of the river, must have escape. They will have escape. If they do not find it in safe and harmless channels they will find it in dangerous and obnoxious ones. No Jenner or Koch has yet discovered an antidote or inoculation that will destroy the red corpuscles that dance in youthful veins.

Since the introduction of athletic exercises in colleges, much of the "rushing," the conflict between "town and gown," has ceased. Hazing and other bad and brutal forms of sport have disappeared. Regular and scientific exercises in the gymnasium; practice on the base ball grounds; the pulling of boats, and the other methods of physical exercise have afforded the students the needed opportunities for working off the enthusiasm and the superfluous energy that is bottled up in all youthful bodies. In these institutions hazing, "skylarking" and other nuisances are the exception where they were formerly the rule.

Means and facilities for physical exercise at Ann Arbor are few and scant. Boating is an impossibility because there is no water. They have no gymnasium. Their numbers are the largest of any institution on the continent, and their athletic advantages fewer than some of the smallest institutions.

Besides they are a large population in a small town, and situated right in the midst of its population. This brings them into close contact with the town people, and gives many opportunities for collisions. So far as the "rushing" at the post-office is concerned it would seem as if some other method or time of distributing the mails might prevent the gathering of so large a crowd as assembles there every night.

All these circumstances must be taken into consideration in dealing with these disturbances. They are not to be settled by denunciation, criticism, hard words, hard names, or boarding school restrictions and regulations. They cannot be dealt with by any such imperfect, impotent and inadequate methods. The origin of the troubles must be learned, studied and allowed for before a remedy will be found. Until that is done, these outbreaks will occur. But they are by no means hopeless of cure.

The remedy must be practical and immediate, and the only way to cure it is to provide the cure. Through the liberality of Senator McMillan, Mr. Philo Parsons and others, the library of the University has been enlarged and improved, and a few other donations, including the exhibit of the Chinese government and Mr. Lewis' Coldwater gallery of pictures, have been added to the resources and attractions of the institution.

But what it needs most just now is a gymnasium of the first rank with all the modern conveniences and apparatus. If the state will erect a suitable building the Journal will undertake to raise a sum large enough to equip it in first class order, and will head the subscription with $100.—Detroit Evening Journal, Nov. 19.

THE CORNELL GAME.

In spite of the disagreeable weather last Saturday, at least 2000 people gathered at Recreation Park, Detroit, to witness the game between the U. of M. and Cornell teams. Over 800 students went down on the special train, and the alumni were well represented in the audience. The game was not started until 2:57, owing to the failure of the Cornell team to reach the ground, and consequently the second half was limited to half an hour. The teams at the start were as follows:

U. of M.	Positions.	Cornell.
McKeon.....	Right End.....	Shepard
Malley (Capt.).....	Right Tackle.....	Johnson
Sutherland.....	Right Guard.....	Griffith
Chadbourne.....	Centre.....	Galbraith
Trainor.....	Left Guard.....	Calnon
R. Sherman.....	Left End.....	Ray
Holden.....	Quarter Back.....	Yawger (Capt.)
Duffy.....	Right Half.....	Strait
Grosh.....	Left Half.....	Osgood
Jewett.....	Full Back.....	Bacon

N. G. Williams, Jr., Referee and H. B. Joy, Umpire.

Cornell opened the game with a rush for 5 yds., and Strait and Shepard carried the ball to our 10 yds. line, where Jewett tackled. Duffy ran 15 yds., but Cornell got the ball; after several offside plays, by which Cornell lost 5 yds., Strait made a 10 yds. run, and short rushes brought the ball to our 15 yds. line. Duffy carried it to centre, where Osgood tackled him. Jewett advanced the ball 20 yds. and Holden 5 yds., when Strait was disqualified for slugging and Ray was substituted, Barr taking Ray's place. Sherman's good run was stopped by a tackle at the ankle, but the foul was not allowed. Jewett made a touch-down from Bacon's kick which was not allowed on the ground that Malley was offside. By a good kick Bacon advanced the ball 40 yds. and Ray carried it 10 yds. further, when U. of M. got the ball on Malley's tackle. Grosh lost the ball after getting 5 yds., and runs by Ray and Osgood, followed by the turtle crawl, carried it to the 1 yd. line, when Jewett was disqualified, Duffy taking his place, Malley playing half and Harless tackle. Ray then scored a touch-down; no goal.

Grosh and Malley advanced the ball 10 yds. and after an interchange of kicks, Shepard made a beautiful run but went outside at the 2 yds. line. A rush carried the ball over, and Bacon kicked goal. Time was called, with the score 10 to 0 in Cornell's favor.

U. of M. started the second half by a rush for 10 yds. but lost 5 yds. on Harless's offside play. Duffy failed to hold Bacon's punt kick, and Malley fell on the ball; Grosh and Malley then made 30 yds., and Duffy kicked. Bacon reached the 15 yds. line where McKeon stopped him. We got 5 yds. on Ray's interference with Duffy's catch and Malley and Grosh advanced the ball to the 25 yds. line, where we lost 25 yds. on a foul tackle. After an interchange of kicks Duffy kicked outside from a fair catch; on the second trial Yawger made a fair catch, and Osgood and Ray by splendid running took the ball over at the 3 yds. line, whence Osgood went over. No goal. Our ball at 3 yds. line. Holden passed it to Duffy, who kicked low, the ball rebounding over the line where Johnson fell on it. Bacon kicked goal. Score 20-0.

Duffy kicked from centre and after a rapid interchange of kicks, Sherman made a fair catch, and Duffy narrowly missed the goal. On the return the ball went outside at the 30 yds. line. Bacon kicked low, and Harless got the ball at centre. U. of M. got 25 yds. on a foul tackle. Malley and Grosh advanced the ball 10 yds., when Harless was ruled out, Pearson taking his place. Osgood got the ball on Duffy's kick, but Sutherland downed him at the 8 yds. line. Bacon kicked low, and on account of interference, Duffy was given a free kick. On the second attempt he kicked a goal from the 40 yds. line, and the students went wild. Cornell started the ball from the centre, and Ray and Osgood gained about 40 yds., the ball going outside at 8 yds. A run across the field by McKeon was not allowed, as the ball was not yet in play. Time was called with the ball at our 5 yds. line. Score: Cornell 20, U. of M. 5.

ABOUT COLLEGE.

Thanksgiving next week.

James Swan, law '90, is practicing in Detroit.

The lecture association will sell no more season tickets.

Villier's lecture has been postponed until this evening.

The University Club in Detroit has just expired after a lingering illness.

President Angell was lately made vice-president of the Congregational Club of Detroit.

Miss Edith Sheffield, of Battle Creek, Mich., formerly with '92, is visiting friends in the city.

Prof. Stanley is out of the city to-day and as a consequence the class in college songs will not meet.

There was a meeting of Iowa students this morning in the S. C. A. room, to form an Iowa club.

The ladies of the Congregational church are going to hold a fair during the first week in December.

Mrs. Dr. Vaughan chaperoned a party of young ladies who went to Detroit last Saturday, to see the foot-ball game.

Mrs. James B. Angell attended the ladies' committee meeting of the World's Fair at Chicago, the first part of the week.

Pres. Angell has announced that no one need apply for excuses from recitations to leave before the recess properly begins.

The sale of tickets for the Student's Lecture Association stopped last night. No more will be issued under any condition.

Freshman politics have been boiling hard all the week, for this afternoon, at 2 p. m., in Room A, they held their election of officers.

There was a meeting of '94 independents, Wednesday night in Adelphi hall, to nominate candidates for the class election to day.

Rev. Robert Nourse lectured to a large audience at the Congregational church last Sunday evening, his subject being "Why I am not an infidel."

Mr. W. C. Quarles and E. Darrow left yesterday to spend the Thanksgiving vacation at the home of the latter on Walnut Hills, a suburb of Cincinnati.

Dr. Charles Gatchell has also subscribed $100 toward the Detroit Journal U. of M. gymnasium equipment fund.

Cornell college publications characterize Duffy's long kick in the U. of M.—Cornell game, as being a thing never before surpassed on the foot-ball field.

The Unity Club will give a rainbow sociable, Monday night, Nov. 24. Refreshments will be served, and a good social time is promised. All friends are invited.

Roy Spencer of Heidelberg University, J. B. Chaddock, law '90, and A. H. Hankerson, formerly with lit '92, were guests at the Alpha Tau Omega house the past week.

Prof. Hudson's class in History, studying France on the eve of the Revolution will have a written recitation the first Wednesday after the Thanksgiving recess.

Freshmen, beware! The "Tutes" intend to rent a room in the new store building on State St. and furnish it for a gymnasium, for the purpose of developing their muscle.

Prof. J. B. Steere delivered an interesting lecture entitled "Crossing the Andes," at the M. E. church last Thursday evening for the benefit of the Young Ladies' Aid Society.

Louis James had a good house Thursday evening and gave great satisfaction. F. C. Mosely as Marc Antony more than shared the honors of the evening and was given three curtain calls.

A meeting was held at the Arlington last evening of representatives from the Detroit Journal, the faculty, and the college athletic organizations to form an immediate plan of action in regard to a gym. fund.

The student Fred Parsons should not be confused with the person by that name who figured in the capacity of militia man at the disturbance in which Dennison lost his life.

Last evening at Nickel's Hall, following the custom of the last two years, the young ladies of the town and University gave a charming party. About fifty couples were present.

Mayhew, '94, in speaking on the ancient Roman triumphs in Prof. Kelsey's Latin class the other day, said, reminiscently, "The recent democratic procession reminds me of a Roman triumph, more than anything else I ever saw."

The Woman's League of the University gave an afternoon tea in the chapel to-day.

Prof. de Pont has missed a couple of books from his desk in his recitation room, and cordially invites the person who took them to bring them back at their earliest opportunity.

Andrew E. Gibson's speeches still continue to be the drawing card of the master piece seminary, Wednesday afternoons. His ideas are unique to the extreme, and his mode of expression is forcible if not convincing.

At the meeting of the Philosophical Society, Thursday evening, Miss Street read a paper on "Ruskin's Philosophy of Art." The society has changed its place of meeting to room 21, and its time to Thursday evening.

If the lecture association cannot with present arrangements control the reserving of their seats sufficiently to prevent half a dozen tickets being marked for the same seat, it would better have the seats reserved at other places, or not at all.

Prof. F. N. Scott's course in "The Principles of Style" promises to become one of the most popular courses in college. It is something for which there has long been felt an urgent need. In fact the professor himself lends no small attraction to the course.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore will deliver her lecture on "The Perils of the Republic," to-night in the Unitarian church. An admission price of twenty-five cents is to be charged, this including assured seats. Mrs. Livermore is considered the ablest woman lecturer in this country, and a large crowd will, no doubt, greet her.

All are invited to hear Prof. D'Ooge's "Sketch of Dutch Literature" to-night at the Adelphi. Besides this the program will consist of an essay by Miss Latham and a debate; resolved, that a national university should be established at Washington by the government. Affirmative H. D. Haskins, negative R. W. Doughty.

"The Philosophy of the Incarnation" is the general subject of the course of lectures which Bishop Garrett will deliver before the Hobart Guild this winter. The individual lectures will be designated as follows: 1, The Philosophy of the Infinite; 2, Evolution, Spencer; 3, Idealism, Hegel; 4, The Person of Christ; 5, Sin; 6, Redemption; 7, The Kingdom of God.

A number of the Normal School students from Ypsi have purchased lecture course tickets and are now, it is supposed, awaiting with impatience the completion of the new electric road which is to connect the two cities.

The farmers' alliance in one of the southern Kansas districts has elected a circuit judge who never studied law a day in his life. His constituents have raised a purse of money and will send him to the Ann Arbor law school for sixty days in which time they believe he can imbibe sufficient legal love to sit on his judicial bunch.

It seems that we are not going to get the electric road to Ypsi. as soon as we expected. Some one of our country friends who fears the disastrous results of having the road in front of his house, has sworn out an injunction to restrain the Company. The claim is that the franchise is faulty and he never said they could come by his house anyhow.

The Pennsylvania Club expect to hold, in addition to the regular Thanksgiving Banquet, one or two socials during the remainder of the year, for the purpose of getting the members better acquainted with each other and to further the interests of the Club. All Pennsylvania students should join and attend the banquet, Thanksgiving eve.

There seems to be no decided hurry on the part of the city authorities, to dispose of the cases against the four students, arrested for the serious offence of standing on the corner of Main and Ann streets one week ago last Tuesday evening. Woodson, who is to be tried under state law for beginning the disturbance in the postoffice will appear next Monday to answer to the charges preferred against him.

The Kansas farmers seem to have a pretty exalted idea of the Michigan university's law school. They elected a granger for judge out there—a man who had never opened the lids of a law book, or been an hour in court. Now they propose to send him to Ann Arbor for 60 days in order to fit him for a seat on the wool-sack. They are sending him to the right shop. No other place in the world could make a judge out of raw material in less time than it takes an ordinary school to teach a boy his letters. Rah! Rah! U. of M.—Detroit Times.

Herbert Fox, '93, left for his home yesterday morning, summoned on account of an injury of his brother.

The Palladium board would like to hear immediately from all students who do any designing work. A communication addressed to the Palladium will receive prompt attention and full explanations will be given as to the exact character of the work desired. Let all who do any work of this kind respond promptly.

The new daily paper, The Washtenaw County Times, will be issued for the first time next Monday evening. The paper is to have full telegraphic reports and will no doubt meet with a cordial reception. Ann Arbor can support a daily paper easily and the cause for wonder is that no such attempt has been made heretofore. Fred. C. Brown, recently of the Bay City Tribune, is to be managing editor and Geo. S. Hill, of Detroit, business manager. The paper is to be published at the Courier office.

John J. Lentz, President of the Thurman club which gave the magnificent banquet to Hon. A. G. Thurman, in Columbus recently, is an old Michigan man. He graduated from the literary department with the class of '82, and the year following completed the law course at Columbia. The Ohio State Journal says of him: As an attorney, Mr. Lentz ranks among the ablest, and is without a peer among those of his own age and experience at the bar. He has been three times elected President of the Thurman club, and is the originator of the idea of an "Old Roman" banquet.

Mayor Manly's super-officious spirit is continually getting himself into trouble. The other evening he was riding across the M. C. railroad bridge with his wife when some drunken negroes addressed a passing remark to him. Instead of considering the matter beneath his notice as an ordinary person probably would the sprightly mayor jumped out of his carriage and attempted to arrest the fellows. Some say he also attempted to arrest the bridge on which the affair occurred, as well as the whole M. C. system, for letting such people stand on the bridge. Anyway, the mayor bit off a bigger piece than he could chew and the matter dropped where it was. It is plainly to be seen that the mayor will not be a candidate for re-election when his term of office comes to an end.

The Castalian this year will be square in shape. Prof. Taylor's class in finance takes up Adams' Public Debts next Tuesday.

W. H. Turnbull will return to college next semester to graduate with '91.

The next regular meeting of the Unity club, Monday night, will be a social.

According to annual custom the CHRONICLE ARGONAUT will not be issued next week.

The sophomores held a class meeting this morning, dealing with matters of class interest.

The finals in the tennis tournament were as follows: First-class singles, Page won from Slocum, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 6-0. In doubles, Page and Slocum won from Brown and Shaw, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

The last game of class schedule for championship was played Tuesday between '93 Dent, and '94 lit, and resulted in a victory for '94 by a score of 18-0.

Interesting developments are to be expected at the Opera House next Wednesday evening. Dr. Gatchell will try to expose Johnstone the mind-reader. Johnstone says he wants fair play and in addition to other feats, will try to locate the man who killed Dennison.

Concerning the Hild Park Concert Company, soon to appear in the Students' lecture Course, we give the following clippings: "Mr. Frederic Gillette has a voice of wide compass and full of volume, while its quality is very musical. He achieved an emphatic success."—Boston Herald. "Liberati's reception at the Louisville Exposition, was not more enthusiastic than some given to Miss Park, and there seems to be a softness about the tone of her artful touch which even Liberati does not equal."—Col. Geo. W. Bain.

Prof. Winchell returned Tuesday from Boston where he attended the meeting of the executive committee of the American Geological Association. The committee consists of about twenty-five members, and met last week to make arrangements for an International Geological Congress which is to be held in Washington the fourth Wednesday of August, 1891. The congress is expected to last about a week. Excursions will be run to points of geological interest, and a program is to be presented, consisting of discussions of outstanding geological questions in order to settle some points of nomenclature, coloration of geological maps, and determination of symbols.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Prof. Stanley is greatly delighted with the work which is being done by the members of the Choral Union at their rehearsals, and says that there is no doubt of their ability to give a magnificent concert.

The Princeton Glee Club has presented the University Athletic Association a handsome clock for the new grand stand. The clock has been placed in position and is a great advantage to the new grounds, as all can readily see the time during the progress of the athletic events without reference to their watches.—Mail and Express.

The Harvard faculty has evidently relenting, judging by the following clipping from the Crimson: The vacation trip of the musical clubs as at present arranged will be as follows: The Glee, Banjo and Mandolin Clubs will leave Cambridge, December 22, and give concerts in New York, December 23; Chicago, December 26; St. Louis, December 27; Cincinnati, December 29; Washington, December 31, and Philadelphia, January 1.

The Amherst Glee Club has been incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts as the Amherst Musical Association.

The Glee Club intend taking two cars on their trip this year, provided a sufficient number of heelers go to warrant the extra expense. The cost of the trip will be $150. All who wish to go will please hand their names immediately to the manager.—Princetonian.

A Freshman Banjo Club has recently been organized at Princeton.

The Princeton Dramatic Association is at present working upon a new burlesque entitled "Pocahontas." They will probably produce the play some time in February.

The Harvard Glee Club will sing on the 13th of December at the Boston Art Club.

The manager of the Glee Club, Mr. W. B. Ramsay, '90, has written to various points in the east including all of the prominent college towns for dates, and there is strong probability that the spring trip will be made in this direction. If so, Cambridge and New Haven will be visited.

We would like to offer some little explanation of the "dates ahead" for the Opera House in this city. Companies playing here do not care to have the fact generally known in professional circles so the bookings are not recorded at any of the dramatic agencies. The companies playing here generally get "fly" dates, that is if they have no other engagement and can't possibly play anywhere else they may play here. It is a curious fact that if a company can play anywhere else it always does.

ATHLETICS.

Candidates for the Williams base ball nine are in constant practice.

The junior class at Amherst has just won the class base ball championship.

The total scores of Yale against Wesleyan since 1884 have been 1,223 to 9.

The Detroit Journal is the only paper which gave a good account of the game.

The Week's Sport considers Yale's right end rush the weakest point on the team.

It is said that lawn tennis is more popular in Holland than in any other European country.

University of Pennsylvania defeated Harvard in 1884, but has never beaten Yale or Princeton.

The average weight of the Princeton rush line is 170 lbs., of the backs, 157, and of the whole team, 165.

The DePauw eleven telegraphed that they would have to cancel their date here, fixed for today.

Gill, Yale, '89, has an article on "Football Memories," in a recent number of Harper's Young People.

The center rush in the DePauw foot ball team balances the scales at two hundred and twenty-six pounds.

A number of Harvard men are planning to take a prolonged bicycle trip through France next summer.

The University of Wisconsin will play foot-ball with the Northwestern on Thanksgiving Day in Milwaukee.

Negotiations are now pending to have the next Yale-Harvard boat race rowed on the Connecticut River at Springfield.

The Philadelphia Press names Yale as the probable winner of the inter-collegiate foot-ball championship, and Harvard as the victor in the Yale-Harvard game.

Galbreath began his career as an athlete when he was attending the Illinois State Normal University some six years ago.

The Cornell team began to practice together about Sept. 25, and have been at training table since Oct. 5. This is what counts.

Harvard has scored 541 points to her opponents' 6 in 10 games played. Yale has scored 446 points to her opponents' 6 in 12 games played.

The faculty of Lawrenceville School, the celebrated "prep." for Princeton, has decided that hereafter masters shall not play on the school eleven.

University of Pennsylvania plays the Crescents, at New York, on Thanksgiving Day, presumably in the morning so all can see the championship game in the afternoon.

Heigh diddle diddle,
A kick in the middle,
A "Soph" a-howling with pain,
The Junior laughed to see such sport,
And Freshie walked off with a cane.

—Columbia Spectator.

Duffy's long goal kick from the field was pronounced by the Cornell people, as well as by all who saw it, as one of the prettiest plays on record. The Free Press reporter had to acknowledge this fact, but he displayed his knowledge of the game when he said that the kick was made from the 60 yds. line. This would make a distance of 180 ft., not counting the distance behind bounds that the ball would have to go in order to get over the pole, while the record for a drop kick is under 170 ft.

Galbreath, the Cornell center, said in conversation after the game, that he had played foot ball for five years and he had never played in such a rough game before. He singled out Trainer especially as the man who did the rough work. His general tone indicated that he considered the most of our rough play as entirely unnecessary and he is to be pardoned for so thinking, inasmuch as he had been rather rudely handled. But Hernandez, who played under the name of Ray, when asked, said that the game was no rougher than their games with Yale and Harvard, and he added with a significant smile, we had to be careful about slugging as we could not afford to lose any men by disqualification. This man Hernandez belongs to Alpha Zeta, the foreigners frat. at Cornell, and is a Spaniard from Porto Rico.

Saturday's scores: Yale 60, Pennsylvania 0; Williams 6, Amherst 0; Franklin and Marshall 38, State Normal School of Millersville 0; Lehigh 66, Lafayette 6; Dickinson 12, Haverford 0; Princeton 46, Wesleyan 4.

It is a mystery to understand why a paper like the Free Press should publish such an account of the game as was given in last Sunday's issue. It was no account of the game at all, and was evidently written by a man who knew nothing of foot-ball. Nobody was killed, nor maimed for life. But the reporter before the game announced it as his intention to roast the game and slugging that would be done. So he did so on general principles, but why he did so or what good he expected to accomplish in so doing, is one thing which nobody knows.

AMUSEMENTS.

On next Wednesday evening, Paul Alexander Johnstone, the celebrated mind reader, will appear at the Opera House. Manager Sawyer has been asked many times as to whether or not Mr. Johnstone would be one of the season's attractions and so takes great pleasure in making this announcement. Mr. Johnstone's powers are simply marvelous and he has well been named, "The mystery of the age." He fully exposes modern spiritualism so called, and performs many wonderful tests.

Some of our readers and many of the citizens will remember that two years ago Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde was presented at the Opera House in a very acceptable manner. The actor who played the leading part in this thrilling piece was Dore Davidson, supported by Miss Romie Austen and a powerful company. Many who saw him as Dr. Jekyll say there was none better than he, yet Mr. Davidson and Miss Austen have made their greatest success in a melodrama known as "Guilty without Crime," which has drawn immense houses all over America. This piece will be presented at the Opera House next Monday evening.

If you want to find out how to get a Webster's Unabridged, "Kodak" Camera, bicycle or a watch without a cash outlay write to THE COLLEGE MAN, New Haven Ct.

EXCHANGES.

Blaine is the only college graduate in Harrison's cabinet.

The freshmen at the University of California are all examined by an oculist.

The Union Chapter of Sigma Phi has fallen heir to about forty thousand dollars.

A bronze statue of ex President Woolsey, costing $14,000 is to be erected at Yale.

Ohio Wesleyan University has made plans for a new university building to cost about $90,000.

Of Cornell's ninety graduates, ten per cent. were ladies, yet they bore off sixty per cent. of the honors.

There is a movement on foot to establish a chair of the Irish language at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Faculty of Stevens Institute are considering the advisability of lengthening the course from four to five years.

Stephen Girard, Johns Hopkins, and Asa Packard gave over $14,000,000 to the colleges which bear their names.

On account of the interest in foot-ball at Columbia, it is probable that the fall regatta will not be rowed this year.

The Stinnecke Scholarship at Princeton has been awarded to Jesse B. Carter, of New York City. This scholarship, valued at $1,800, is the largest prize given in any American college.

The average expenses at Yale per year have been for each freshman $783.96; sophomore $831.34; junior $884.17; and senior $919.70. The largest expenses reported for any one was $2,908.

It is estimated that if the tobacco used in France in a single year were twisted into a cord two inches in thickness, it would be long enough to encircle the earth thirty times, following the line of the equator.

Oh! the clothes press is a swell affair
For garments nice and neat.
The hay press is a grand machine
And does its work complete.
The cider press is just the thing,
With juices red and sweet;
But the printing press controls the world,
And gets there with both feet.

A vote taken upon the most popular student at Cornell resulted in Osgood, '92, receiving a flattering majority.

American colleges derive two fifths of their income from students, while English universities get only one-tenth from that source.—Ex.

The class spirit at University of Pacific seems to be developing quite rapidly. The sophomores proceeded to plunge a junior into a water trough one night, and the next night freshmen and juniors gave a sophomore a decidedly cold bath. The faculty next appeared upon the scene and suspended the freshman class for thirty days, but we understand that all is smooth sailing there at present.

The University of Pennsylvania is fortunate in having secured James Russell Lowell for a course of lectures upon the Old English dramatists. This means a discussion of the most splendid period of English poetry by the most gifted of all our literary critics. The course was given several years ago at the Lowell Institute, in Boston, and was fascinating for its originality, freshness and power.—Hartford Courant.

THE DIFFERENCE.

I ask Lillian to kiss me,
(Lillian is eight)
"I—I'm 'fraid mamma 'll miss me,
Perhaps you'd better wait!"
I ask Lillian to kiss me—
Lillian is eight.

I ask Lillian to kiss me,
(Lillian's eighteen)
"Well—quick! Mamma might miss me—
And if I should be seen!"
I ask Lillian to kiss me—
Lillian's eighteen! —Trinity Tablet.

There is a certain disease among college men known as "Caput magnum." Men coming to college from High schools and Normal schools are often afflicted by this "undue cranial development," and it would be well for them to remember in the words of an ex., that "The college world got along very well before they came, and, in all human probability, will get along quite as well after they are gone."

In order to rid the Harvard law school of men who have used it as a loafing place, the faculty have given notice that no special students will be allowed to remain more than one year at the school unless they pass in at least three courses, and also that regular men will be dropped unless they have three courses to their credit.—Mail and Express.

A SPRAY OF JESSAMINE.

I hold it in my hand—and lo!
The Southern night is over me,
Through quaint old streets I seem to go,
In Spanish city by the sea.

I press it to my lips—and straight
From carven balcony there flies,
Soft as the sunshine, swift as hate,
Smiles of her Andalusian eyes.

It quivers, and I listen—far
And faint along the dusky street
I hear the plaint of Love's guitar,
In Spanish romance, old and sweet.

I fold it close, where daylight may
Come never near it—for, to me,
It is the flower of night, of gray
Old spanish cities by the sea.

—Wellesley Prelude.

The Princeton faculty has decided that no special student will be allowed to play in any university athletic team until he has been in college two terms.

The Harvard people seem to have as much trouble in arousing an interest in cycling matters as is experienced here. For their amateur race meet which is to take place to-day there are only 17 entries for the 14 prizes offered. From the general experience in the last few years it seems as if bicycle racing will never become popular as a part of college athletics.

ALL IN THE FAMILY.
